What are they and why should I go?

Have you been getting the monthly networking event invitations and aren't sure what they are? Well, this month is a perfect time for you to come check one out! ASCE YMG sponsors these events to give young engineers throughout Denver a low-pressure opportunity to begin building professional networks. Our events usually last a couple of hours and are a great way to learn what other civil engineers do, find out about local projects and efforts, other specialties, and ask 'light' technical questions. After all, you never know when you will need to rely on connections in your career. The events are FREE, though you have to pay for your own drinks, and ASCE YMG provides appetizers. For most events, we do not require registration, however, some of our larger, sponsored events do. Be sure to check the newsletter for specific details on each event.

Where are they held?

The monthly networking events rotate throughout different bar & grill locations in the Denver Metro area. We try to provide equal opportunity to all locations, although the downtown events typically have better turnout. Do you work in the outlying suburbs? If you are interested in us hosting an event near your office so you can bring colleagues, please let us know and we will try to schedule one. Also, if you know of a great place to host a networking event, please contact us (asce.ymg.colorado@gmail.com). We are always interested in trying new places!

Who can attend?

These events are sponsored by ASCE. Therefore, we encourage all civil engineers in the area to attend: civil engineering students from the local colleges, new professionals, university professors/advisers, and experienced civil engineers. Come attend our events and help grow your network. The more the merrier! Hope to see you at one, or all, of these.
