ASCE SOUTHEASTERN BRANCH PROJECT MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

PRESENTS:

A Tour the Mcity Test Facility

Host: Regina Ferguson, Mcity Facilities Coordinator

Presentation: Regina Ferguson, Mcity Facilities Coordinator, will take ASCE members and their guests on a guided tour of the Mcity autonomous vehicle test track at the University of Michigan.

Occupying 32 acres at the University's North Campus Research Complex, Mcity simulates the broad range of complexities vehicles encounter in urban and suburban environments. It includes approximately five lane-miles of roads with intersections, traffic signs and signals, sidewalks, benches, simulated buildings, street lights, and obstacles such as construction barriers. Mcity celebrated its grand opening on July 20, 2015 with representatives from government, industry, & the university.
